The Ludwig von Mises Merit of Honor Award is presented by the Future of Freedom Conference Committee (FFCC)

At each Future of Freedom Conference, one Ludwig von Mises Merit of Honor Award is given out. The Future of Freedom Conference Committee votes to determine the winner of the award several weeks before the conference. The award is named after the late Professor Ludwig von Mises because he was the keynote speaker [and responsible for its success] at the first conference at Cal State Univ., Long Beach in 1969.
