Dear Friend:

The 10th Future of Freedom Conference will be held Oct. 1, 2 and 3 at California State University, Long Beach in the Student Union. We are contacting various associations, publications and businesses who might be interested in the following:

1. Setting up an exhibit table [6 or 8 feet].
2. Advertising in our conference Programme Booklet [600-1000 copies are distributed.]
3. Conducting a workshop [usually 60 minutes in length].
4. Advance discount ticket purchases.

Last year's conference saw over 500 people in attendance. With our great line-up this year, especially with speeches by Dr. Thomas Szasz, Dr. Nathaniel Branden, Douglas Casey, John Pugsley, Prof. John Hospers, Robert LeFevre, Prof. David Friedman, Jeffrey Rogers Hummel, Jack Matonis, George Smith, Wendy McElroy, Jeff Rigenbach and others, we expect far more participants.

The people who attend our conference are generally young, decentralist, conservative or libertarian. Professor Ludwig von Mises, the great Austrian economist, was the keynote speaker at the first Future of Freedom Conference in 1969.

Please do not wait. Room is limited for exhibit tables, Programme Booklet space and workshop availability. For additional information, please feel free to call Lawrence or Terry at the numbers below.

Sincerely yours,

Lawrence Samuels
