FUTURE
OF FREEDOM
CONFERENCE

May 8-10

Cal State Univ., Long Beach

PROGRAMME

SHAWN STEEL

A Message From The Honorary Chair

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to this year's Future of Freedom Conference '81. It was 12 years ago that I, along with several libertarian leaders, decided to organize a conference dedicated to integrating a variety of libertarian groups to discuss human freedom.

It is only fitting that this year's conference is held once again at Cal State Univ., Long Beach, site of the original conference in 1969.

That first conference with keynote speaker Prof. Ludwig von Mises, in a rare west coast appearance, is a milestone.

Looking back, it is hard to comprehend how we organized the 1969 conference. The late 1960's was a time of consternation and rebellion. Freedom oriented people found themselves abandoned, either purged from the right or the left. The first conference was a sanctuary for these young refugees. Because of this political turmoil, we invited decentralists, individualists and voluntarists in one forum to organize, discuss and study the philosophy we now call "libertarianism."

With your support, I am sure the Future of Freedom Conference will grow and inspire libertarians everywhere.

Speakers

Timothy Leary, is one of recent history's most controversial figures; his scientific and philosophic ideas have had a significant impact on our culture. His ground-breaking work at the Kaiser Foundation in the 1950's helped revolutionize traditional approaches to psychotherapy (he is the early founder of the humanistic psychology movement, and author of 20 books). At Harvard University in 1960, he began the Psychedelic Research Project which soon became the subject of sensationalized publicity, and Leary left Harvard. In the early 1970's, Leary was jailed on pot charges, receiving a sentence of 20 years. He escaped, spent several years in exile, and was kidnapped and returned to the States. Leary was jailed for 3½ additional years.

Timothy Leary

Irwin Schiff

Irwin Schiff, author of The Biggest Con: How The Government Is Fleecing You, is considered to be the father of the modern tax rebellion. A graduate of the University of Connecticut in economics and accounting, Schiff has openly stated that he hasn't paid income taxes since 1973. Unabashed and pending appeal on his latest conviction for failure to file tax returns, he recently published The Kingdom of Moltz, a story picture book with cartoon drawings. Schiff has appeared on numerous radio and TV talk shows, including Tom Snyder's "Tomorrow Show," "The David Susskind Show," "Mid-Morning LA" and

Howard Ruff's "Ruff House."

Karl Hess, (back this year by popular demand) is a former Republican Party ghostwriter and speechwriter for Barry Goldwater ("Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice") and Presidents Nixon and Ford. A former editor of Newsweek, he was denounced by William F. Buckley for his infamous statement, "I love the country. I loathe the nation." Hess turned New Left in the late 1960's preaching decentralized economics and anarchism. His best-known book is Dear America. He is also well-known for his award-winning 1969 Playboy article, "The Death of Politics." Hess has become known in recent years for his advocacy of do-it-yourself small-scale technology (and its applications to practical survival techniques), and is currently an editor of the journal Survival Tomorrow. Most recently, a short film on Karl Hess won an Academy Award (Oscar) on March 31, 1981 in Hollywood.

This year's award goes to the late F.A. Harper posthumously. Harper was the founder of the Institute for Humane Studies.

The 1980 Award--Dana Rohbracher.

The Future of Freedom Award is given annually to one individual who has actively worked to promote liberty. Usually, a tribute banquet is given at the conference to honor this person. This year's award goes to John Hospers, professor of philosophy at USC.

"Politics is not an alternative form of libertarian activism; it is an alternative to libertarian activism. The oft-stated fears that a libertarian political party might 'sell out' are misplaced, for libertarians who embrace political action have already sold out. They and their resources are lost to the advancement of personal freedom...."

R. S. Taylor-Radford

"A libertarian casting a vote is engaged in an act of self-defense....The state will win only if the 'pure' libertarians keep their rose-colored glasses and blinders firmly affixed in their lines of vision, and do nothing about the state's infringements on liberty."

The following is the formalization of a survey conducted on an informal basis for many years. These previous dialogues and interviews were the genesis of AFTER THOUGHT, a non-profit network of people concerned about our future. The survey project stems out of curiosity about what people believe is going to happen in (or to) the world in the near future, and what kind of correlations might be drawn between our attitudes and that which does occur.

Please feel free to respond at length, to use additional paper, or to elaborate upon even the structured multiple choice questions. We are interested in what you feel is going to happen, rather than what you would like to see happen in the future. All responses become the property of AFTER THOUGHT, but can be confidential upon request. Please fold the survey over and return to AFTER THOUGHT. Thank you for your time, our results will be reflected back to you.

The Institute of the 1980's and Beyond!

Rampart Institute was founded at the eighth Future of Freedom Conference at Cypress College in 1980. It was at the Saturday night banquet honoring Robert LeFevre that Rampart Institute was given birth.

Some of the Projects of Rampart Institute:

- Seminars by Robert LeFevre on the "Fundamentals of Liberty (usually held monthly).
- Publication of the in-house "New Rampart" printed every two months.
- Publication of "Rampart Individualist" printed quarterly and edited by Kenneth Gregg, Jr.
- Weekend intensives in the local mountains by Robert LeFevre, George Smith, Kenneth Gregg, Jr. and others (still in planning stage).
- Efforts to establish a Libertarian Center (3,000 to 4,000 sq. ft.) in Southern California to house LeFevre's extensive library, and set-up a bookstore, research/reading room, lecture hall and office space for other liberty seeking organizations.

Tyranny is not easily conquered. Yet we have this consolation with us; the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly. It would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as freedom should not be highly rated.

Thomas Paine, 1776

Rampart Institute is incorporated in the State of California and has is applied for tax-deductible status.

Board of Directors: Harry Hoiles, Robert LeFevre, Richard Deyo, Lawrence Samuels, Kenneth Gregg, Jr., Jane Heider, John Pugsley, Robert D. Love, Denison Smith, Randal Smith and George Smith.

A TRADITION SINCE 1969

This year's conference is the ninth in the nation's oldest libertarian/individualist conference series. Below is a brief history of the conference series:

YEAR—1969: In May of 1969, the purged West Coast leaders of Young Americans for Freedom created a new organization called the California Libertarian Alliance (CLA). Under the leadership of Dana Rohrabacher, Shawn Steel, Doug Kennel (Gene Berkman), R. Kimberling, Dennis Turner, John Schurman and others, the CLA organized a conference on libertarianism and Austrian economics, held at California State University, Long Beach. Prof. Ludwig von Mises was the keynote speaker along with others including Robert LeFevre, Tibor Machan, and Phillip Abbott Luce. Dr. Nathaniel Branden was scheduled to attend but refused to speak after discovering that some of the conference organizers had been associated with the conservative Young Americans for Freedom. Branden attended and addressed the conference several years later. More than 200 students appeared at this one-day conference.

YEAR—1970: The "Left-Right Festival of Liberation" was held at the University of Southern California (USC), and was attended by some 500 eager listeners. This February conference featured F.A. Harper, Tibor Machan, Karl Hess, Carl Oglesby and others.

YEAR—1970: A November conference repeated the theme of the May conference, "The Annual Festival of Liberation." Held at USC, the conference featured Paul Goodman, Prof. Murray Rothbard, Dr. Thomas Szasz, Skye D'Aureas, Robert Love, Lowell Ponte and others. Some 700 persons attended.

YEAR—1971: The fourth conference, held at USC, entitled simply "Libertarian Conference," featured Michael Engler, Lowell Ponte, Don Franzen, Phillip Abbott Luce, Roy Childs and others. It was held in November.

YEAR—1972: Again held at USC, the fifth conference was billed as a "Symposium on The Political Implications of Modern Psychology" in February. Some of the main speakers included Dr. Nathaniel Branden, Robert LeFevre, George Bach, Carl Faber, David Harris, and Roy Childs.

YEAR—1973: The sixth conference centered on "The Future of Victimless Crimes" in February at USC. It featured Dr. Thomas Szasz, Dr. Nathaniel Branden, Prof. John Hospers, Robert LeFevre, and the Los Angeles Police Chief, Tom Redden, who, despite his conservative image, spoke in favor of lessening pot penalties. Richard D. Hongisto, sheriff of San Francisco County, also spoke saying that police often ignore enforcement of violent crimes in order to go after easy drug bust arrests. Some 500 people attended the conference.

YEAR—1977: The seventh conference, entitled "The Future of Freedom" in April (at USC), is best remembered for the debate between Prof. David Friedman (son of the Nobel laureate, Prof. Milton Friedman), and Tom Hayden (co-founder of the SDS and Jane Fonda's husband). The conference also featured Soviet dissenter Pavel Litvinov; law professor Norm Karlin; science fiction writer Poul Anderson; psychologist Nathaniel Branden; futurologist Jerome Tuccille; philosopher John Hospers; tax-resistance attorney Jack Matonis; and others.

YEAR—1980: The eighth conference, titled "Future of Freedom Conference II," was held in April at Cypress College in Orange County, Calif. It featured the inventor of the 'Laffer Curve,' Prof. Arthur Laffer; author of Illuminatus trilogy, Robert Anton Wilson; former speech writer for President Nixon and Senator Barry Goldwater, Karl Hess; and with Jack Matonis, Robert LeFevre, John Pugsley, John Hospers, George Smith, David Bergland, Anthony Hargis, Sandy Shakocius, Carl Nicolai, Lowell Ponte, Samuel E. Konkin III and others.

NEW!

Centennial Edition of Henry George's PROTECTION OR FREE TRADE

When Henry George's PROTECTION OR FREE TRADE first appeared, in the 1880's, it stirred great reaction, here and around the world. Today it is a classic of the free trade controversy because:

- it is clear
- it is eloquent
- it deals with underlying issues rather than with transient details

Although George argues strongly for free trade, he shows why it will not raise wages and decrease unemployment, in the long run, unless accompanied by basic reforms of our economic system. Popular support for free trade has been undermined because of the realization that, by itself, it will not alleviate basic economic problems. George provides a way to make free trade truly effective.

PROTECTION OR FREE TRADE is now available in a beautiful new Centennial Edition for $10. Order now for yourself, your classes, and your library. There is a discount of 40% on orders of five or more, postage extra.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Right now, as you are reading this flyer, you may be in the immediate vicinity of a literature table operated by The Church of Eternal Life & Liberty, Inc. (CELL). If so, here's what this opportunity means to you:

Free literature At our literature table you can select materials from over 50 libertarian and immortalist organizations. Among the free items are issue papers, periodicals, catalogs, booklets, subscription forms and more. The selection is revised constantly.

And--not only are you welcome to take materials for your own use, we have bulk quantities of many items which we encourage you to take with you to distribute to others. You can, if desired, participate in our public service project of delivering sets of libertarian issue papers to libraries. Intended for their vertical files, over 1,000 libraries in three countries have already received such gifts.

Libertarian and immortalist products for sale at discount prices Choose from over 50 different kinds of buttons (best selection in Michigan). There is also a variety of books, bumper stickers, palm stickers, posters and other items available. Best of all, the merchandise is available at discount prices.

On the chance that one of our literature tables does not happen to be at hand, we invite you to utilize and participate in the following services and activities:

LIVE AND LET LIVE The Church's newsletter is published irregularly 6-7 times a year. Its purpose (like other Church activities) is to encourage and assist individuals in the study, understanding and practice of the principles of eternal life and liberty as a means of achieving happiness. In each issue, readers can look forward to 1) reports on past and present CELL activities, 2) discussion of future plans, 3) a calendar of events including activities of other people and organizations with at least some common goals, 4) original writings and quotations from others for inspirational development, 5) suggested activities that readers may perform for their own benefit, and 6) requests for assistance from readers in various forms to help CELL achieve its goals.

LIVE AND LET LIVE is available at no charge and will be sent upon request. Readership now includes residents of five continents.

CELL meetings On the first Sunday and fourth Thursday (except holidays) of each month, a service is held at church facilities. There is no admission charge and refreshments are served. See the back of this sheet for details.

CELL library On the second Tuesday and fourth Thursday of each month (except holidays) the CELL library is open to the public. It now contains 5,000 books, periodicals, tapes, microfiche, maps, slides, records, flags and so forth. Hours are 7:00-9:30 PM. There is no admission charge. Those desiring to withdraw items from the premises need only leave a damage deposit (refundable).

The traveling speaker and/or literature table Since 1974, Rev. Patrick A. Heller and, later, Rev. Thomas A. Selene have conducted services or hosted literature tables in Michigan, Ontario, Indiana and California. Stops have included over a dozen college campuses. Whether the audience contains 4 or 200, a suitable program can be arranged (at low or no cost) or even just a literature table at the back of the room. At least three weeks advance notice is usually needed.

And more While there isn't enough room to list everything, some of the major continuing programs are the Southeast Asian refugee aid project, the Hillsdale College Annual Scholarship and the Hillsdale College endowment fund. For details on these and others, just contact the Church. If we can't help you, we have an impressive amount of names and addresses of those who might.

If our literature table is close by, don't leave without at least spending five minutes browsing through the materials. If we're not close by or you don't have time to visit, save this flyer. That way, you'll be able to write us at Box 622, Southfield, MI 48037, call us at (313) 547-6935 (answering machine hooked up 24 hours a day) or visit us at 10251 Oak Park Boulevard, Oak Park, Michigan (9½ Mile Road between Coolidge and Woodward on the southeast corner of Manistee). Your interest will be rewarding.

The Tenth Anniversary Convention of the Libertarian Party

August 26-30, 1981
Denver, Colorado

The Libertarian Party has come a long way since its beginnings ten years ago. And this summer, we're meeting in Colorado — birthplace of the party — for a grand celebration and a flying start into our second decade.

Highlights of this historic gathering will include panels, workshops, a reception in honor of our three past presidential candidates, a trip to an old gold mining town, a great debate on the future of the party, and a gala 10th Birthday Banquet that will be talked about for years to come.

For veterans and newcomers alike, LP/10 will be an exhilarating and memorable experience. Plan now to be there.

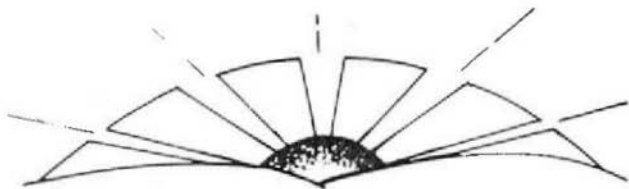

Details to follow.
